

Preventing Challenging Behavior and Promoting Positive Social Skills: A Pyramid Model Training

To support children's social and emotional competency and prevent challenging behavior, participants will:

- Develop a deeper understanding of the role of relationships
- Learn how to use your environment effectively
- Identify important social emotional skills to intentionally teach

The Pyramid Model was developed by the Center for Social and Emotional Foundations for Early Learning (CSEFEL)

Click here to find out more at the CSEFEL website

Sat. 10/26 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.
Wed. 11/6 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Sat. 11/16 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.
Wed. 11/20 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Lunch provided on Saturday sessions

Training hours: 18*

ECCLC, 2850 McClelland Dr., Ste. 3400, Fort Collins

FEE: $60

Register at www.ecclc.org

This class could be worth up to 14 points on your Early Childhood Credential in PDIS. You can receive points for the hours (up to 10pts), for a series (2pts), and for its focus on children with high needs (2pts).

