ABOUT CORINNA

Corinna grew up in Longmont, Colorado, and has lived in Montana and Wyoming before landing in Fort Collins 6 years ago. She began her career in early childhood education working in a variety of settings including: child care centers, traditional preschools, and home-based care. She also spent time in K/1 classrooms before pursuing her Master's in Marriage and Family Therapy. As a therapist, Corinna worked with young children and their families who were experiencing family discord due to situations such as a divorce or parenting challenges. In addition she spent over 10 years working with children who were in foster care or who were at risk of being removed from their home. Corinna's 30+ years of experience in early childhood came together beautifully in her current role as an Early Childhood Mental Health Consultant. She also has a passion for providing trainings to those who work with young children in educational and clinical settings.

Outside of work, Corinna feels incredibly blessed to share a household with her deeply loved daughter and young grandson. The family likes to venture out to Lory State Park, splash parks, local parks/playgrounds, trails around Fort Collins, and outdoor live music events. When Corinna spends time alone she might be found taking a drive in the mountains, hanging out in the movie theatre, listening to music, listening to an audio book, or reading. She also finds great value in connecting with friends over coffee or a new adventure. She has a yappy mini schnauzer named Luna; she was named after the moon because Corinna and her grandson have a shared love for the night sky. Corinna loves being an ECMHC, loves being a mom, and is in love with being a nana.
